The National Sheriffs' Association (NSA) Endorsement Program is an initiative designed to help law enforcement agencies, and their partners identify products and services that meet the highest standards of quality and reliability. Through this program, the NSA rigorously evaluates products and services, offering endorsement only to those that demonstrate a clear benefit to law enforcement operations and align with the NSA's commitment to advancing public safety.

Evaluation and Approval Process: Products and services submitted to the NSA Endorsement Program undergo a thorough review and evaluation process to assess their effectiveness and durability in the context of law enforcement. The NSA considers how well these offerings meet the specific needs of sheriffs' offices and other law enforcement agencies as well as reviewing the applicant organization itself.

Trusted Seal of Approval: Once a product or service passes the NSA's evaluation, it earns the NSA endorsement—a now recognized mark of quality within the law enforcement community. This endorsement is a testament to the product's value and its alignment with law enforcement standards. Any company that would like to be endorsed by NSA can complete the Application here.

“We are excited about our new Endorsement Program and we are delighted to offer our first endorsement to ECC’s IMPERIUM”, said NSA Executive Director and CEO Jonathan Thompson.”
